Dear Bro. G

I write you by permission of the P.M. to let you know that last week & the week before copies of the Liberator came to office for J. W. Hartwell F. F. Brooks & S. Frost - Now there are no such persons in Action so far as we know & the papers are not taken from the office - Can you tell us what your house of "Letters" what shall be done with the papers -

I have for a long time wished to say a cheering word to you my Bro. - There are those here who sympathize very deeply with you, notwithstanding Mr. Woodbury's influence - He wishes very much to be considered as much as ever opposed to Slavery & that is about the amount of his anti-slavery effort. It is a fact that the people here are not so well awake in the cause as they were three years since - They have been made to fear if not to hate Garrisonism & Perfectionism, which last with many is synonymous with all manner of wickedness.
Strange! that men can be so blind - But when the blinder have the blinder you know they will go - Especially if they are made as well as blind - The Spectator is a wretched influence here so far as it goes any - still I think it best to take very little notice of such a contemptible thing - I have looking around for more subscribers - I know not that I shall find them - Still my heart is with you to do what little I can - I have long wished to see you & give you hearty shake of the right hand - I love you because of your principles & now the less that you are persecuted for account of them.
Something has said of inviting you formally to lecture in our Lyceum - I presume every single individual would vote for it - Some however do not <sup>wish</sup> to offend Mr. W. - or as he would have it - to grieve him - He said it was the hardest thing we could ask of him - to let the Quaker stand in his his feet not on the Sabbath - I presume to have Mr. George Garrison there or any where else in town would be worse than the -

The Liver bleb cure quick you
